EBITDA is not recognized under GAAP and does not purport to be an alternative to net income as a measure of operating performance or to net cash flows provided by operating activities as a measure of liquidity. EBITDA is a component of the debt to EBITDA covenant that we must report to our bank on a quarterly basis. In addition, management considers EBITDA a useful measure because it eliminates differences which are caused by different capital structures as well as different tax rates and depreciation schedules when comparing our measures to our peers' measures.

FINANCIAL RATIO DEFINITIONS

$$\begin{aligned} & \text{Net Income (LTM) [A] + [Net Interest Expense * (1-Effective Tax Rate)]} \\ \div & \text{[Book Value (Total Stockholders' Equity [B]) + Net Debt] @ beginning of LTM} \\ = & \text{Return on Invested Capital} \end{aligned}$$

[A] Net Income excludes noncontrolling interest and discontinued operations

[B] Total Stockholders' Equity excludes minority interests and discontinued operations

Three year averages are derived from calculating the return metric for each twelve month period and then averaging the three period metrics
